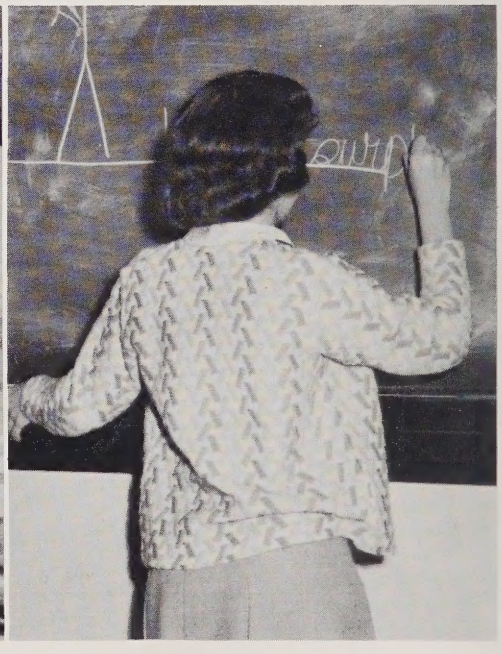
Senior English student Sue Ellen Love explains to the class a bulletin board on a modern novelist.

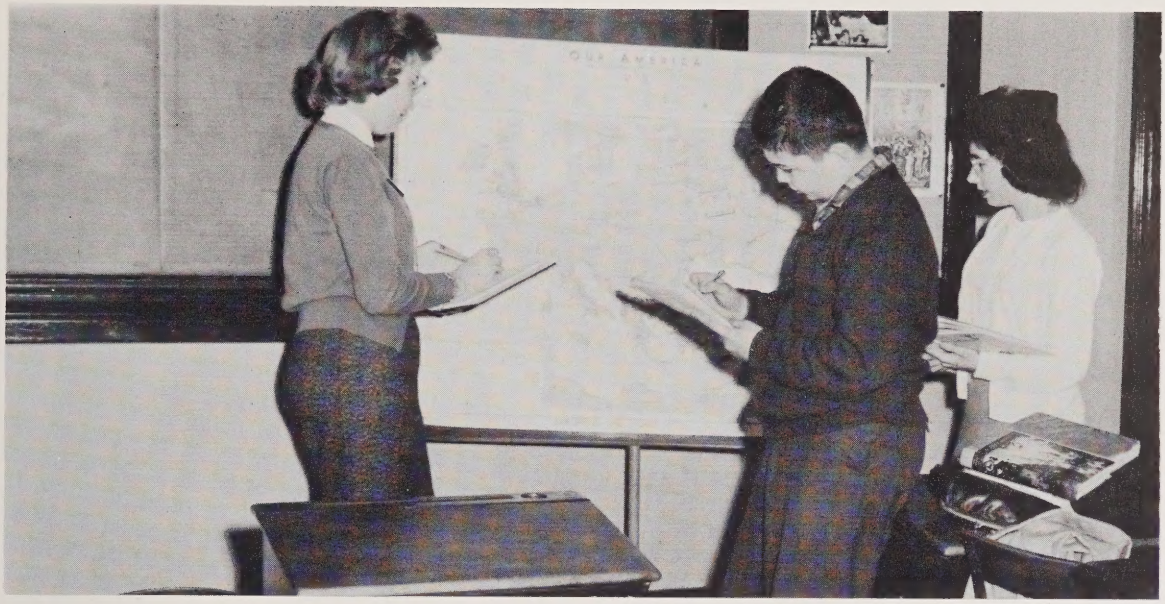
The only course at Concord High School that each student takes each year is English. The reason for this is to provide students an opportunity to learn to speak correctly their native language. This is accomplished through requiring one semester of grammar each year. To enrich a student's literary knowledge, one semester of literature is offered each year.

English

Mrs. Campbell's sophomore students explore the mystery of Shakespeare's play, "Julius Caesar."

Mary Lou Williams diagrams a complex sentence on the board for freshman English.





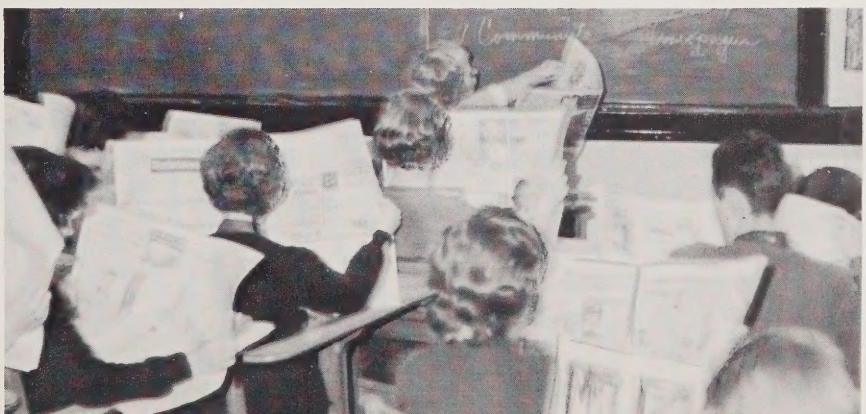
World history students are often found gathered around the map.

Psychology students experiment to see if "mind reading" really exists.

Social Science

The aim of the social science department is to make students more aware of man's existence as a member of an organized community. Students have a greater understanding of current world problems after studying their historical background. They are more impressed with the work of the federal government after learning how the duties are carried out.

A new program in American History is the weekly use of newspapers for current events study.



Dear Marty,
It has been nice knowing you this year. Best wishes for the future. Johnny K.

Foreign Languages

As modern means of transportation make the world smaller each day, the importance of studying a foreign language becomes even greater. Latin students benefit from their study of ancient customs which are the basis for much of modern civilization, and from gaining an acquaintance of a language which has influenced so many present languages. French students this year have concentrated on gaining greater competence in understanding the spoken language, as well as having a reading knowledge of French.

Top—First year French students Ilene Burris and John King record a dialogue while looking at pictures of the characters.

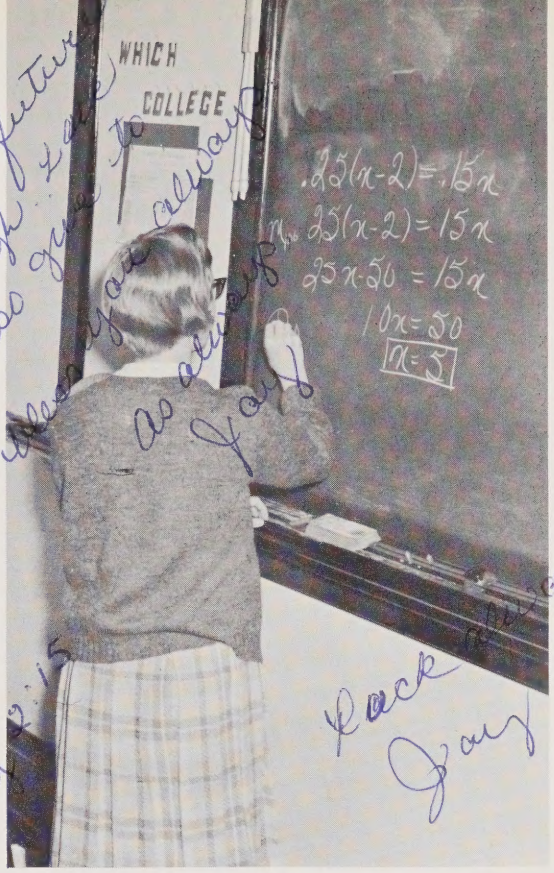
Bottom—Second year French was highlighted by a party at which the students celebrated a French Christmas.

A Roman Army camp is sketched by Mary Ellen White while Ann Williams looks on.

Second year Latin student Linda Swaringen explains a model of a Roman weapon to her class.

Math

Mathematics is receiving a new emphasis in our technical age of computers and missiles. The basic fundamentals vital to further study in advanced math courses are learned in Concord High School's well developed mathematics program. Other math courses teach the practical, everyday uses of math principles.



First year Algebra student Joy Duncan checks over her equation.

Geometry constructions seem like puzzles to Ed Stewart.

In business math class, the nation's future taxpayers study the correct method of filing tax reports.

Science

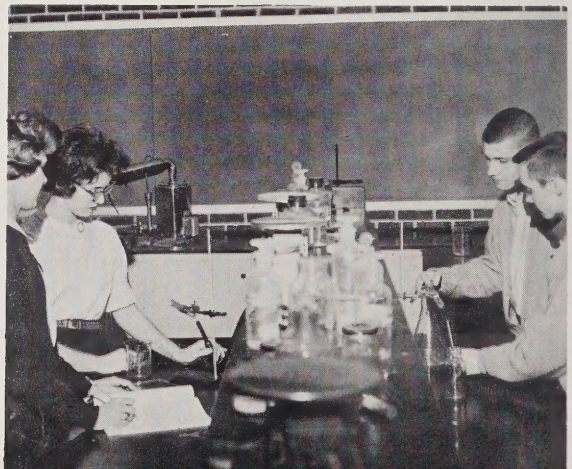
Since the first satellite began its orbit around the earth, the field of science has received increased attention in American schools. Concord High School has a science program which gives a student the necessary background for continuing in more technical courses later. Much new material for lab work has been purchased, and new courses such as zoology have been added to the curriculum.

Physics student A. R. Hudson uses his slide ruler to solve a complex problem.

Mr. Alexander is found supervising his eighth grade science students as they conduct an experiment with bacteria.

Biology students Babe Stallings and Jennilee Blackwelder investigate the mysteries of one-celled plants.

Betsy Ross, Pat St. John, Wayne Cline, and Dennis Barringer are hard at work in the chemistry lab.



Constructive Arts

The constructive arts department teaches subjects which are of immense practical value to students. The courses are especially useful to anyone who plans to go into business or a skilled trade, however, the skills learned in typing class, in art, or in manual training will be useful to students in their everyday life.

Tidying up their model of a fallout shelter keeps home economics students occupied.

Typing students practice in preparation for a timed writing.

Miss McNeely's physical education students do "jumping jacks" as they warm up for a rugged game of basketball.

In manual training class, boys learn carpentry skills which come in handy for "do it yourself" projects.

With triumphs and failures behind . . . a wiser you looks to the future and to the opportunities awaiting you there.

For us Seniors 1962 brought an end to the first important stage of our lives. As we look back into our high school years, we see many mistakes and failures, but during that time we learned to accept defeat and even to profit by it. We remember the nights we played instead of studying for those important tests and the times we neglected to support our school at athletic and social functions. But we also see that these years were a time for intellectual growth and accomplishment. The pep rallies, dances, games, projects, club activities, Florida are all a part of our memories and our hearts. Through our experiences at CHS we now realize the true value of our years here and the importance of our decisions for future plans. With confidence and assurance, we look ahead to find our places in the world.

JUNIORS..

The Junior Class entered the life of Concord High School with added participation in clubs and extracurricular activities. Sponsored by Miss Alice Tucker, the class of 1963 began its first year as an organized class by electing officers. First on the agenda was the magazine campaign which was in preparation for the annual invasion of the "Sunshine State." As April drew near, Juniors became more and more excited about their coming journey. After the trip was over, activity continued with measurement for class rings. The climax of the year was Class Day, when the Juniors were capped and commanded to "Rise, Seniors."

The Student Assembly, composed of elected representatives from each homeroom, is the organization for student participation in government. Under the capable leadership of its officers and advisor, it links the administration with the student body. With the aid of others who serve on its committees, the Student Assembly conducts various projects beneficial to the school.

Student Assembly

The float, "Santa's Workshop," represented Concord High exceptionally well in the Christmas parade.

To finance the summer exchange program, the "collegiate" assemblymen urge students to buy hemp belts.

The Weavings

The Weavings, published ten times each year, compiles for the students an up-to-date account of the activities of Concord High School. The journalists, counseled by the co-editors and advisors, work toward presenting detailed descriptions of news, feature, and sports events. Before going to press, the articles must pass through the hands of the typists, who prepare the final copy. As a result of the work of the staff, the Weavings comes to you as a completed publication.

THE NEWS STAFF—Bill Miller, Agnes Yelton, Dianne Furr, Mary Lane Dudley, Rita Lentz, Theresa Wiles, Barbara Scuffham, Ken Boger, and Kay Smith—waits for a final comment from Editor, Judy Graves.

FEATURE EDITOR, Mary Ellen Ritzman, assigns humorous articles to her staff members—Dale Polk, Pat Baucom, Carolyn Hoffler, Diana Pethel, and Martha Yount.

THE SPORTS STAFF—Edith Craven, Fred Thomas, Toby Prewitt, Mike Brown, and Editor Dick McPhatter—discusses changes to be made in several of their articles.

BUSINESS MANAGER, Ann Hoover, with the help of Julie Miller, Alice Peninger, and Beth Donnelly, plans the budget for the next edition of the Weavings.

TYPISTS — Linda Goode, Janice Greene, Jean Freeze, Norma Litaker, Ann Wilson, and Linda Hartsell—view their handiwork as it appears in the Weavings.

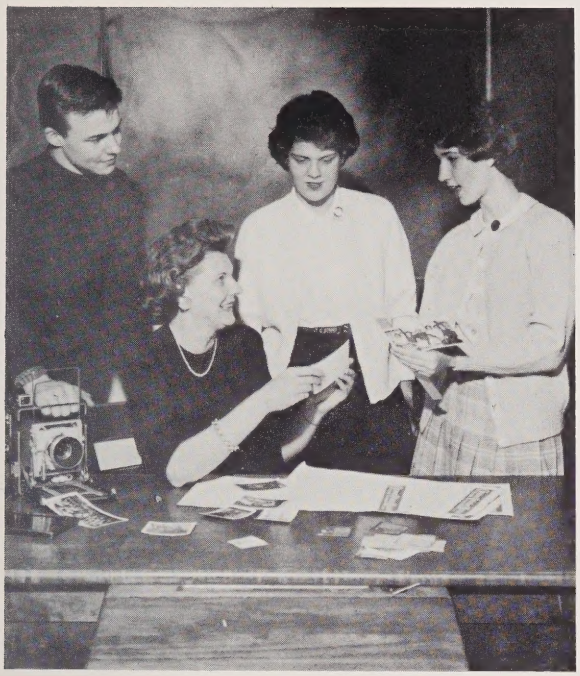
Spider Web Staff

All year, the Spider Web staff has worked attempting to give you a true version of life at CHS. For weeks and months, and many hours into the night, staff members frantically typed, identified pictures, sorted out copy, and rushed to meet the deadlines. We hope that for years to come, as you look through this book, you will be able to recall the days you spent at Concord High and the way you remembered it in 1962.

Mrs. Frances Alston,
EDITORIAL ADVISOR

Mrs. Katherine Holshouser,
BUSINESS ADVISOR

Why is everyone crowding? The Annual Staff is trying to catch a look at the new cover of the 1962 Spider Web.



Mrs. Alston discusses some pictures for the opening section with Mary Hugh McInnis while John Hord, Photographer, and Junior Editor Mary Ellen Ritzman look on.

Becky Cress, Jo Ann Barringer, and Sue Ellen Love identify pictures for their Classes sections.

The past annuals are a big help to Diana Pethel, Betsy Whitley, and John Turner as they try to find suggestions for the Music and Sports sections.

Mike Frye takes a moment out from planning his Honor section to assist Martha Yount and Susan Crowell with the layout for their Organizations section.

Mrs. Holshouser and Pat St. John give the Business Staff—Frank Dawkins, Margaret Cannon, and Charlie Williams—some pointers on the art of selling ads.

Dramatics Club

The Dramatics Club, under the direction of Miss Blanche Stewart, is the largest and one of the most active clubs at CHS. Its members are urged to participate in dramatic productions at its bi-weekly meetings and to take part in backstage and committee work. Prompted by the desire to act, the club presented in 1961 the three-act comedy, "Ladies of the Jury." The purpose of the club, to further the cause of dramatics and to give the students experience in this field, is one which it can be proud of attaining.

Members linger in the auditorium after another entertaining Dramatics Club program.

During a last minute rehearsal, the jury foreman tries to regain his authority from Mrs. Crane.

The cast of the senior competitive play discusses costumes and setting for the production.

Stage Manager, Gene Sherrill, instructs his crew on backstage work.

Aslaug Aamdal portrays Lady Macbeth in a Thespian talent production.

Miss Blanche Stewart applies the finishing touches to Paul Lentz before his appearance on stage in "Ladies of the Jury."

Forensic Club

The Forensic Club, instilling in its members an interest in public speaking, does much to produce proficient orators. Through participation in student congresses and bi-weekly programs, the club strives to develop the speaking ability of its members. Under the guidance of Mr. Bostian, various projects have been carried out in accordance with their aim.

At one of its bi-weekly meetings, the Forensic Club urges its members to give their views on the topic of discussion.

Future Teachers of America

An interest in teaching as a profession is the requisite for membership in the Future Teachers Club. Under the direction of Miss Motley, advisor, the Future Teachers sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day as its major project. As a member of the National Education Association, the club has as its aim to enlighten its members on the importance of teaching.

Bible Club

The Bible Club, started at Concord High in 1954, is an interdenominational organization under the leadership of Miss Reviere. The club provides an opportunity for students to plan and conduct programs that enrich their sense of unity as Christians and enable them to be better leaders in their own church organizations.

The club members listen attentively as their president makes important announcements during the business session of a meeting.

Future Homemakers of America

The members of the Future Homemakers of America are girls interested in becoming good homemakers as well as useful citizens. Open to freshmen through senior girls, the club conducted many successful projects throughout the year. Guided by Mrs. Bulla, the FHA members strive toward their aim of encouraging good will and promoting better home management.

The FHA officers are: Carolyn Thomas, President; Vivian Allen, Vice President; Beverly Carpenter, Secretary; Margaret Anna Spence, Treasurer; Linda Swaringen, Parliamentarian; Vicki Lowder, Historian; Jane Hartsell, Recreation Chairman; and Lynda Drye, Reporter.

Distributive Education

In its second year at Concord High School, the DE Club exposes students to vocational training. Under the direction of Mr. Williams, the club strives to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution, to invoke respect for the business world, and to provide an understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in the free competitive enterprise system of America.

Two of the DE students receive on-the-job training at the Cabarrus Creamery.

ASSISTANTS

Giving up their study halls to assist in the work of the school, the Library, Office, and Sickroom Assistants help to keep the school functioning properly. Their daily tasks include sorting the mail, running errands, taking phone calls, checking out books, filing cards, typing pockets, taking temperatures, and aiding the sick.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is the goal of many students reached during their Junior or Senior years. Students who have shown outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service are inducted into the society on Tap Day. The Invictus Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in 1928. This year the society sponsored College Day to help students start planning for their college education.

National Thespian Society

The aims of the National Thespian Society are to promote standards of excellence in all phases of the dramatic arts and to create an interest in dramatic arts among students. The Concord High Troupe No. 202 was organized in 1932. The society is composed of Dramatic Club members who have earned points in at least two of the three fields of dramatics. To stimulate interest in the Dramatics Club the N.T.S. has produced the one-act class competition plays. Members are taken into the society in formal initiations held twice a year in the winter and late spring.

Quill and Scroll

The purpose of the National Quill and Scroll has been since its organization in 1942 the promotion of good journalism in high schools. Each year the Quill and Scroll honors Junior and Senior members of THE WEAVINGS and THE SPIDER WEB staffs who have done outstanding work on these publications during the year.

Key Club

In 1962 the Key Club of C.H.S. had one of its most successful years since its organization in 1947 by the Kiwanis Club. Fulfilling its duties as a service organization, the Key Club sponsored the Christmas gift to the janitorial staff, placed a tree in the hall to promote Christmas spirit, and participated in the March of Dimes campaign. To finance the special project of supporting an overseas orphan, the Key Club sold peanut brittle and "The Buzzer" and held the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

National Forensic League

Organized at Concord High School in 1950, the National Forensic League aims to promote interest and enthusiasm in the fields of public speaking and debating. Members of the Forensic Club may enter the N.F.L. when they have earned at least twenty-five points in Forensic work and have been voted in by the N.F.L. members. This year, N.F.L. members have attended several student practice congresses including the official N.F.L. Congress held in High Point.

Modern Music Masters

The Lyre Club of Concord High School became a national music honor society in 1959, under the name of Modern Music Masters. Members are chosen on a basis of ability and scholarship in both music and academic subjects. The aim of the society is to create a desire for accomplishment in the field of music.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club's aim is to strive for better school spirit and to promote good sportsmanship. The members not only have proved their prowess on the athletic field by the completion of the specific amount of time of play in a major sport, but also have received the respect of their advisors and fellow athletes, since the approval of the coaches and vote of the members of the club is required for membership.

Monogram Club members: First row: Julie Miller, Susan Frazier, Regina Eubanks, Betsy Ross, Barbara Leigh, Diane Cagle, Ann Parker, Sandra Morris. Junior Optimiss Club

Junior Optimist Club

The Concord Junior Optimist Club, organized in 1961, is composed of eighth, ninth, and tenth grade boys having at least a C average. The Club is closely associated with Optimist International and is an official charter member. The Junior Optimiss Club is a newly organized club for girls. The girls must also maintain at least a C average. The purpose of both clubs is to develop loyalty to the community and to promote scholarship. The Clubs also attempt to develop leadership in their members. Various service projects have been carried out during the year. These projects include helping needy families at Christmas and the promotion of a school safety campaign.

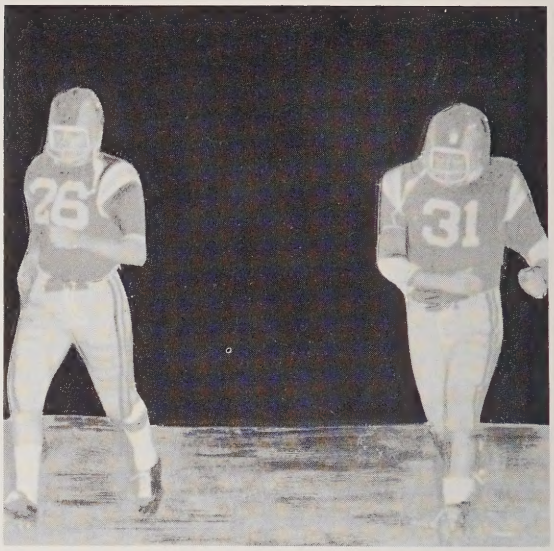
Displaying a rigid defense and varied offensive attacks, the CHS Spiders came out of the 1961 football season with a 7-1-2 record. The unyielding Spiders defeated such teams as Albemarle, South Rowan, and Mt. Airy. The end of the season was climaxed by the recapture of the treasured VICTORY BELL from the arch rivals, the Little Wonders of K-Town. Once again after four years, the bell will ring to the glory of BLACK and GOLD.



Co-Captains Tommy Fletcher and George Blanton gave the Spiders the backbone needed for a successful season.

MANAGERS

The 1961 football season would have neither been complete nor successful without the aid of the managers. These five boys, under the leadership of John Robinson, aid the players by carrying water, bandaging wounds, taping ankles, and giving their never ceasing support. These boys were a strong backbone behind the team and should be commended for a job well done.

Under Coach Ronald Cox's able training, the Junior High Football Team wrapped up the 1961 season with a record of 3 wins and 2 losses. These boys, mostly 8th and 9th graders, will form the backbone of the future Spiders' eleven and with their spirit and determination will carry them to higher goals in varsity playing.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

A "hot and cold" team, the Spiders never seemed to be able to work up a full head of steam. Continually beset with minor injuries and illness, they seldom had a full complement of players at game time.

Under the careful coaching of Ronald Cox and Jerry Robinson, the 1962 basketball team emphasized speed and accuracy. They finished the season with a good record, and hope to have many of their lettermen returning next year.

ATHLETIC AWARDS

Concord High School has always been noted for having excellent athletic teams, which annually receive many awards for their fine performances. This year Senior George Blanton earned two of the highest football awards that any high school football player can be given, that of being named to two All-American teams. Credit should be given to all the boys who helped George and the teams push on to many well deserved victories.

Only much training and hours of strenuous practice could make you an accomplished musician. You realized the value of the time you spent in singing scales or playing technical exercises when you played a stirring march or sang a difficult solo passage. You were pleased that you could create melodious sounds for your personal enjoyment as well as the enjoyment of others.

CONCORD HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Again the CHS marching and concert bands have completed successful seasons. Among the most enjoyed half-time performances of the marching band were "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "Cinderella Story." CHS musicians were honored to receive an invitation to play at the University of North Carolina's annual Band Day, which features various high school bands throughout North Carolina. At the close of marching season, the band changed its style of playing and became a superior concert band. An all time high was set for Concord by the nine musicians chosen to play in the All-State Concert Band.

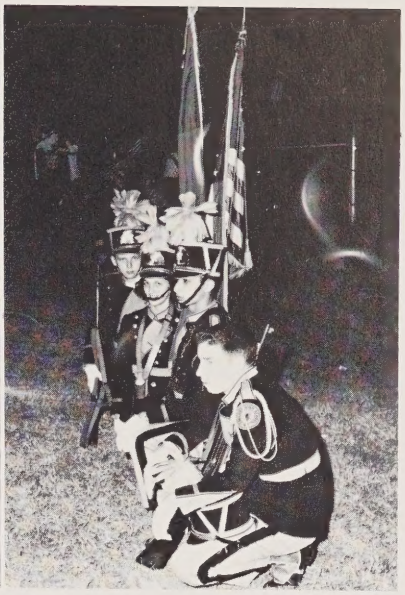
Attention, Girls!

As Noel guided the band across the field or down the street, John directed and commanded with his baton and whistle.



Ready to march onto the field, the color guard, under the direction of Jim Babb, awaits the drum major's signal.

SUCCESSFUL BAND YEAR!

Play each note carefully, for the band that gets a Superior may be your own!

Composed solely of underclassmen, the Junior Band trains its members for a promising future in the Senior Band. This year the Junior Band provided entertaining half-time shows for the Junior Varsity football games.

Deciding on music for the Junior Band are officers Ronnie Carpenter, Librarian; Karen Williams, Librarian; Karen Brown, Secretary; Dean Edwards, Vice President; Phil Wilson, President.

Second Row: Mr. Ingram, Ronald Leigh, Alex Porter, Birch Shaw, Jackie Fugaring, Phil Blackwelder.

PEP BAND

Adding much pep and enthusiasm to the pep rallies was the Pep Band. This group of fourteen hard working musicians displayed great school spirit by practicing overtime to work out numbers with the cheerleaders. Thanks, fellas, for making our pep rallies peppier!

"Hey Look Us Over!" Jake McGee, Paul Lentz, Robert Taylor, Bill Irvin, and Mike Lewis.

Luther Gillon, new director in the Music Department, served the Dance Band as leader this year. Available for all school functions, the Dance Band has offered an important part of musical training to those interested in playing dance music.

DANCE BAND

SENIOR CHORUS

A new method of choral instruction was introduced by Mr. Ingram, director, this year. Singing techniques were stressed in order to achieve the best results while singing any type of music.

Another first for the chorus was an exchange concert between the Logan Senior Chorus and the CHS Senior Chorus.

Several chorus members attended the State Choral Festival held at Woman's College in Greensboro, North Carolina.

"Asi"

EXCHANGE STUDENT

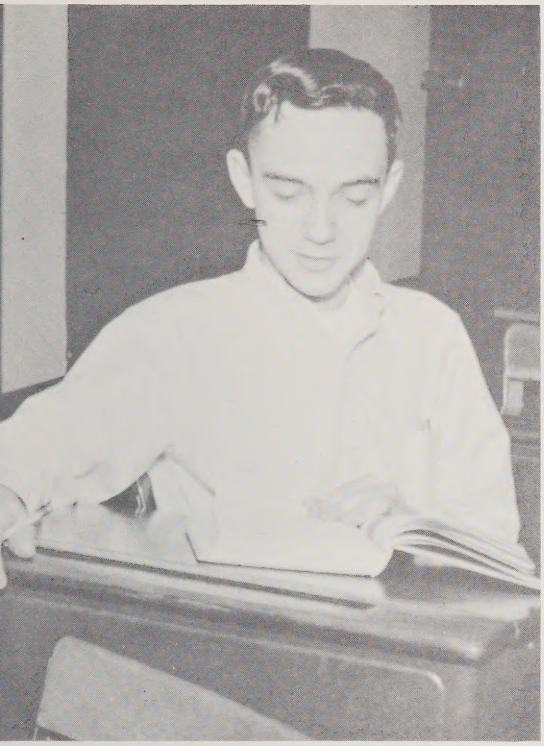
Aslaug Aamdal

Aslaug smiles as she wears her Norwegian costume.

Aslaug Aamdal, fondly called "Asi" by her new American friends, came from Norway as Concord High School's fourth foreign exchange student. Making her home with the family of Mary Hugh McInnis, editor of the 1962 Spider Web, "Asi" has entertained and informed civic and church organizations with her delightful speeches throughout the year.

A hard worker, Aslaug has served as a Student Assemblyman, representing Concord High at the North Carolina Student Council Congress at High Point. "Asi" has taken a big part in Dramatics Club work also, being the first foreign exchange student to hold a major role in a three-act play at CHS.

We shall never forget "Asi," not only because of her cooperativeness, but also because she became an integral part of life at CHS.



Jimmie brushes up on his German for his trip abroad.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Jimmie Davis

A new and entirely different honor was given to one of Concord High School's most outstanding students, when James Samuel Davis, Jr. was selected by the American Field Service to represent our country abroad. For two and one half months last summer, Jimmie lived with the Kellners in Munich, Germany.

Jimmie has been a hard worker throughout his high school career. He took with him to Germany the experience of a well qualified student and leader. Having served as an officer in various clubs, Jimmie was treasurer of the junior class and now serves as president of the senior class. His happiness and pride were reflected in the eyes of every student.

MISS DIANA PETHEL

SPONSOR'S DAY

In the Misty Magic of football season, Spider George Blanton and his teammates kicked a magic football to Diana Pethel, naming her Miss Gridiron of 1962. With forty-one other girls, Diana was presented at the program in Sauvain Auditorium entitled Misty Magic and at the Concord vs. Mt. Pleasant game. The boys presented Queen Diana a 45 to 0 victory. Honored at a banquet with the coaches the following night, Diana enjoyed a weekend of magic straight out of the rabbit's hat.

Miss Merry Christmas

MISS ANN HOOVER

Reigning as Concord High School's Miss Merry Christmas amidst the fantasy of Jingle Bells and Santa Claus, was Miss Ann Hoover, an outstanding senior. Elected by the student body on the basis of participation in school activities, talent, and beauty, Ann smiled her way into the hearts of everyone in Kannapolis and Concord as they watched the Christmas parades.

Ann was accompanied by the Student Assembly Activities' Committee's stunning creation, Santa's Workshop, the float which took first place in both parades.

Dear Students:

It has been a sincere pleasure to work with you on your photographs for this year's annual. To you who are graduating this year, and especially to those who worked directly on the planning, gathering of, and assembling the contents of your annual, we know that in the years ahead you can look at it with great enjoyment and pride as a very worthy effort.

Very truly yours,

Jim and Glenna Wise

Marty,

You are a fine boy and a good friend. I have enjoyed the past year with you. Lot o' luck always,

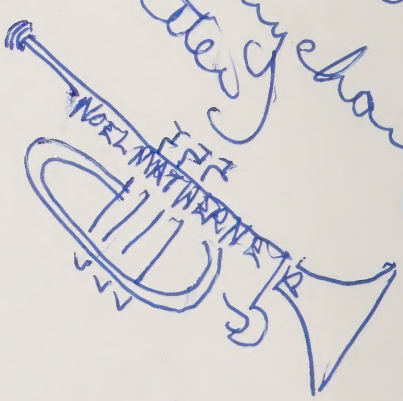
Jerry

(Latin scholar)

Dear Marty,

Keep your ears open and your mouth shut you hear! Shut, shut closed even. Make a change for the better (any change would be better)



Marty
I have enjoyed being in your classes this year. Don't forget

Marty.
It's been nice having you in my study hall. Together I think we did a pretty good job. May the come years at C.H.S. prove to be the fulfilment of your fondest hopes.

lots of luck
Danny Shinn

P. S.
good luck to you and John in Latin.
